240	I have taken them to Belmont police station where there is a collection bin.	3/25/2015 3:36 PM
241	I had VERY old medicines in the medicine cabinets for YEARS. Just last month I went through and collected all the expired/unused RX and OTC and old vitamins/supplements. I read on line that I should bag all the pills in zip locks and leave the liquids in the bottles. Condensed like that I had two full grocery size bags. I then took them to the Pacifica Police Station where they had a bin in the lobby. The officer asked to looked at them to make sure there were no needles etc., and then I was able to put them all in the bin. So easy, convenient and I felt very good in how I had disposed of them.	3/25/2015 3:35 PM
242	Nothing.	3/25/2015 3:35 PM

300	At Kaiser, my physician was unable to advise me, and the pharmacy counter people didn't know how to handle it.	3/25/2015 2:27 PM
301	Sitting in the garage...there's a disposal site?!	3/25/2015 2:26 PM
302	Because we have not been able to find a proper place for disposal or anyone to assist (have asked pharmacies and fire dept) we are storing in a large Baggie in our pantry.	3/25/2015 2:25 PM
303	Isn't there a pharma disposal bin by the police station, near the plaza with the Whole Foods? I think that's where we've disposed of things in the past few years.	3/25/2015 2:25 PM
304	bring to local police dept station who has collection box (old mail box) that its contents are picked up by county health dept. for proper disposal	3/25/2015 2:24 PM
305	keep them in my trunk until I drive by SanCarlos Police Dept and leave them in the box there during office hours. I live in Atherton and feel that this is so cumbersome. It is far easier to get rid of syringes than meds.	3/25/2015 2:22 PM
306	try to take them to disposal site, unable to do so yet- tried pharmacy, they sent me to police, police station had no parking the 2 times I went... so still in my house	3/25/2015 2:22 PM
307	Take to police station..	3/25/2015 2:22 PM
308	I take them to the Burlingame Police Dept. In the lobby there is a metal container to deposit them. Does San Mateo have the same?	3/25/2015 2:22 PM
309	We have a prescription waste collection service at the City offices where I work. The PD disposes of them from there.	3/25/2015 2:22 PM
310	Take to police station.	3/25/2015 2:21 PM
311	Took to San Mateo County hazardous waste disposal and they were rejected and I was given NO advice on where I could dispose of them. And it was a big hassle. You need easy-to-access disposal boxes that require no appointment.	3/25/2015 2:19 PM
312	Give to friend who is a nurse.	3/25/2015 2:19 PM

316	Take them to the police station	3/25/2015 2:15 PM
317	take them to the police department	3/25/2015 2:12 PM
318	I drop them off at our local police station in their special box.	3/25/2015 2:12 PM
319	Return them to MD	3/25/2015 2:12 PM
320	Remove label from prescrip. medicine, fill container with hot water, stuff container with cotton balls, place in trash.	3/25/2015 2:09 PM
321	I kept my old mess for years trying to find a drop off place. Police departments (3 of them) county household hazardous waste, pharmacies (several). I finally gave up and tossed them in the garbage. I am so frustrated by this!!!	3/25/2015 2:07 PM
322	I intend to take them to the pharmacy, but just don't get around to doing it (forget etc.). I don't like to throw them out or flush them, because then I don't know where they'll end up.	3/25/2015 2:06 PM
323	take to police station mailbox for medicines	3/25/2015 2:04 PM

144	I learned decades ago when I lived in Germany. Public education, care for our environment fall on more fertile ground there - I have to say. I once wanted to dispose of some pain medicine here and tried five different places, before they landed at the Police Station in Redwood City. Why make it so difficult?? (People actually teased me: "Only you...!") Education and awareness is one thing. And then make the pharmacies take any unused medicine back and post signs at the prescription window so everyone knows what to do.	3/25/2015 9:19 PM

14	Police Station, Steel Box Collector	3/26/2015 7:58 PM
15	Take them to local police department at inconvenient locations during hours that I'm a work, because the local waste company does not have a waste disposal site. In my town, you have to go IN to the sheriff's office, through a metal detector, during inconvenient hours, at a location that I'm never conveniently near, and you have to pay to park to do it. Much more trouble than it's worth. At some point, when the "old medicine" shelf gets full, I'll probably just throw them in the trash or flush them, since the county doesn't provide reasonable resources.	3/26/2015 6:37 PM

1	I would probably forget. and I know I wouldn't make a special medicine dumping delivery run	4/1/2015 3:44 PM
2	no	3/31/2015 10:56 AM
3	Don't find one inside the store.	3/28/2015 11:21 AM
4	Because I don't use medicine.	3/26/2015 6:57 PM
5	I did not adk	3/26/2015 9:23 AM
6	Too much bother. But please note I am a person who does not have much rx meds	3/26/2015 7:20 AM
7	Just toss them! Too much trouble to make another trip.	3/25/2015 10:23 PM
8	i don't really think about this before going to the pharmacist	3/25/2015 10:15 PM
9	I am not sure i can trust The pharmacy To dispose Of them securely.	3/25/2015 9:48 PM
10	Easier to throw away	3/25/2015 9:33 PM
11	Frankly, with everything else going on in my life, I am just too busy. The meds would just sit around in a cabinet and perhaps my kids would find them. For now they go in the garbage.. If this is a environmental issue, I feel there are MUCH more important issues we have to confront than meds in a landfill.	3/25/2015 7:16 PM
12	learned to take old meds to phar. a long time ago;saw large disposal boxes in pharmacies	3/25/2015 7:01 PM
13	Too busy and stressed to remember to do it	3/25/2015 6:11 PM
14	I would have to happen to have the unused medicine with me when I went there; which is unlikely.	3/25/2015 4:30 PM
15	local firehouse takes old meds, not pharmacy.	3/25/2015 4:16 PM
16	Hold for future use.	3/25/2015 4:09 PM
17	It is easier to dispose of medicine at city hall, Daly City	3/25/2015 4:03 PM
18	Too inconvenient. Need home pickup with regular garbage pick up	3/25/2015 3:53 PM
19	don't have too many no need to make a special trip	3/25/2015 3:43 PM
20	more profitable to sell it online	3/25/2015 3:25 PM
21	Don't know how secure that will be. Also easier to dispose off at home, instead of making a trip to the pharmacy for this.	3/25/2015 3:09 PM
22	I fear that drug addicts would try to steal these boxes if they were made available in such a public setting	3/25/2015 2:42 PM
23	Too inconvenient	3/25/2015 2:37 PM
24	too inconvenient and it might get robbed anyway	3/25/2015 2:37 PM
25	I would never remember to bring them with me for disposal.	3/25/2015 2:30 PM
26	lwould	3/25/2015 2:26 PM
27	fth	3/25/2015 2:08 PM
28	Not sure I would go to the effort. May keep medicine in case needed again assuming not expired	3/25/2015 2:05 PM
29	Rare event, not worth thinking about	3/25/2015 2:02 PM
30	Police Station is convenient.	3/25/2015 1:41 PM
31	I can barely remember to take my reusable grocery bags in :-(3/25/2015 1:27 PM

32	I would rather just return to the pharmacy.	3/25/2015 1:06 PM
33	inconvenient to go there. also I don't have many meds to dispose of. just children's benadryl if it's expired	3/25/2015 1:01 PM
34	it is infrequent I have expired medicine... hence it is easy enough just to hold on to it.	3/25/2015 12:43 PM
35	I would rather dispose of things at home for the convenience.	3/25/2015 12:43 PM
36	too much effort	3/25/2015 12:42 PM
37	If I had them, I'd probably just throw them out instead of going somewhere. Same thing as batteries...	3/25/2015 12:33 PM
38	I dont want then to resell it.	3/25/2015 11:23 AM
39	I don't have unused medicines for disposal. I consume all my prescription medicines. OTC medicines I tend not to buy in bulk and use the amounts I do have even past the printed expiration dates.	3/25/2015 11:21 AM
40	What's the benefit?	3/25/2015 11:07 AM
41	Prefer a more convenient location - I only go to the drugstore when I need to refill a prescription	3/25/2015 11:06 AM
42	Too much trouble to go the pharmacy. Use mail order.	3/25/2015 11:03 AM
43	What's the point when I could just throw them out with the trash?	3/25/2015 10:57 AM
44	I would keep it for emergencies like disasters etc.....	3/25/2015 10:53 AM
45	There should be option "May be", not just Yes/No. I don't know – may be I would. Not sure.	3/25/2015 10:53 AM
46	I would only do it if it was convenient. I don't go to the pharmacy often so it seems like it'd be more of a hassle.	3/25/2015 10:53 AM
47	It seems silly, but I'd likely forget to bring them with me.	3/25/2015 10:52 AM
48	Lazy	3/25/2015 10:51 AM

1	Maybe we can send them to under developed countries who are in need!	4/2/2015 4:17 PM
2	I would like all pharmacies to have a system where we can bring empty prescription bottles (labels are often hard to remove and have names and medical numbers on them), as well as outdated unneeded medications. This should be done without cost.	4/1/2015 8:41 PM
3	I guess we have to make new habits Truthfully most of my medicine sits in a drawer in my bathroom. Expired meds I throw away loose, after I destroy the bottle that has my medical info on it. I'd do the send back if it were free - may be a good giveaway.	4/1/2015 3:46 PM
4	a way to donate the unexpired meds to a good cause.	3/30/2015 11:10 AM
5	It would be helpful to have information regarding disposal on the medication container or sticker - I just looked at a couple and all it says is "discard after...date"	3/29/2015 6:36 PM
6	be able to return them to my doctor or to the pharmacy	3/29/2015 12:42 PM

San Mateo County Unwanted Medication Disposal Consumer Survey

7	More availability for needle take back	3/29/2015 11:31 AM
8	Use medical group in SF that recycles unwanted meds that are still within the date of usage.	3/28/2015 2:29 PM
9	With so many people and places in need these days, there should be some way to donate unused AND/OR unopened medications.	3/28/2015 8:08 AM
10	secure take back bins at medical office locations	3/28/2015 7:45 AM
11	Would also like to take back needles to pharmacy as well.	3/27/2015 5:18 PM
12	because it is possible to include very outdated over-the-counter 650 mg. acetaminophen, salycin 10%, prednisolone acetate 1%, etc., even some make-up	3/27/2015 3:19 PM
13	A secure lock box located next to pharmacies	3/27/2015 3:09 PM
14	Wish there was a donation option available. I have unused contact lenses still in a box that I cannot use. I have sometimes purchased a Rx and never used it.	3/27/2015 12:54 PM
15	The easier the better! What we already have works very well, but people don't know about it!	3/27/2015 9:08 AM
16	The drug store drop-off is the best idea!	3/27/2015 8:12 AM
17	Ideally, just like the used batteries leave them in a bag/container on top of the garbage bin.	3/27/2015 6:57 AM
18	As long as the hours for collection is not just 8am-5pm during weekdays.	3/27/2015 3:14 AM
19	Some med's are very expensive and wasteful to dispose of especially cancer medications and injectable blood thinners...these can cost over 1,000.00 per prescription. It would be nice if a co-op could be set up to help people in need have these unused medications. The pharmaceutical companies are taking advantage of people. The average person cannot afford these costly medications and it would be a shame to dispose of them.....	3/26/2015 8:44 PM
20	And donated to the County Hosp. system.	3/26/2015 8:03 PM
21	N. A.	3/26/2015 6:57 PM
22	Also put take-back bins at grocery stores, Starbucks, etc... put them where people ACTUALLY go. No, I'm not going to PAY for a mail-back service, No, I'm not going to mark a "Take-back" day on my calendar, so that I can tremble with anticipation waiting for the event, only to not be able to make it because I have to do laundry and grocery shop. The Sheriff's Department is horribly inconvenient.	3/26/2015 6:40 PM
23	Free disposal mailback	3/26/2015 12:57 PM
24	Return the things to where they are sold seems like the most obvious thing.	3/26/2015 12:49 PM
25	i feel that any place that sells you medicine should have a take back bin/free for all who walk in....it shouldn't matter if it is safeway, kaise, walgreens or whoever.....if you sell it you should have a place for people to properly dispose of it also.....after all it affects all of usshould not matter if you bought it there or not if a place sells meds they should also have a "take away" old meds area....it is a matter that affects ALL of us the land & sea!	3/26/2015 12:09 PM
26	Medical clinic take-back bin. That's what I currently use---the take-back bin at Palo Alto Medical Foundation.	3/26/2015 11:23 AM
27	donation for use prior to expiration	3/26/2015 10:53 AM
28	I do drop at police station but dislike going there so pharmacy drop off would be fantastic!	3/26/2015 10:28 AM
29	recycling/reuse/redistribution to patients with low incomes. I hate to see meds incinerated when others can not afford them.	3/26/2015 8:59 AM
30	Any easy / free service would make it much better for people to dispose of old/unused medicines.	3/26/2015 8:57 AM
31	where explanation of what to include & how to do it	3/26/2015 7:44 AM
32	None of the above, I would still dispose of them myself.	3/26/2015 7:21 AM
33	Make it easy	3/25/2015 11:58 PM
34	I wish the empty containers were recyclable too. Such a waste. I put them in the blue recycle bin, but I don't think they actually are the right type.	3/25/2015 11:46 PM
35	Take-back bin at Safeway or grocery chain store.	3/25/2015 11:18 PM

San Mateo County Unwanted Medication Disposal Consumer Survey

36	Prefer pharmacy location	3/25/2015 11:12 PM
37	need convenience and easy access I get mail order Rx or pick up at Safeway pharmacy on Woodside Rd in RWC - they do not accept return Rx.	3/25/2015 11:07 PM
38	Some way to make unused medicines available to people who need them but can't afford them.	3/25/2015 10:54 PM
39	Please include sharps disposal! The police station took all the meds but wouldn't take the sharps. The pharmacy wouldn't take the sharps. Really, my parent just died, why must I deal with a giant hassle to get rid of the sharps!!!!!! I really did NOT appreciate the additional hassle.	3/25/2015 10:45 PM
40	Increase number of convenient, free locations	3/25/2015 10:26 PM
41	Coordinate with waste management, like a specified pick up day	3/25/2015 10:25 PM
42	Why are we spending $ on studying this??	3/25/2015 10:23 PM
43	bin at local clinics/hospitals as well PLUS advertise at all pharmacies & clinics WHERE to dispose of	3/25/2015 10:22 PM
44	put it out with my trash and recycling-- you really have to make it very easy of people are very unlikely to do it	3/25/2015 10:16 PM
45	collection point such that the medicine isn't a target for theft. What do the police/pharmacists do with pills/liquids? do they need to identify the pills first? flushing has a greater or at least more immediate impact on the environment than adding to the garbage.	3/25/2015 9:41 PM
46	Has to be easy and convenient or most folks won't participate	3/25/2015 9:14 PM
47	Pharmacy is best and easiest	3/25/2015 9:11 PM
48	Make it easy so everyone will do this. Include pharmacies in grocery stores as well as stand alone pharmacies.	3/25/2015 9:09 PM
49	I use a lot of meds so I have a lot that expire. I need something cheap and convenient. I now go out of my way to dispose of my meds properly but it's very inconvenient and I can't imagine many people would do what I do.	3/25/2015 8:25 PM
50	I try to take to police station, but they only have 9-5 Mon=Fri and it is hard to get to during those times. Anyplace with a better times.	3/25/2015 8:07 PM
51	Take back to physician's office.	3/25/2015 7:59 PM
52	I really wish there was a way to pass on meds to others rather than just disposing of them	3/25/2015 7:16 PM
53	Some place easy to get to----- either pharmacy or police station. will not pay any $$.	3/25/2015 7:12 PM
54	have a take-back (locked/secured) bin at US Post offices	3/25/2015 7:00 PM
55	Re-use of unexpired medications at lower cost to others in need.	3/25/2015 6:53 PM
56	take back bin at Kaiser....altho they may have. PLUS...info on how long you can keep drugs beyond use date. Possibly with trash, as with batteries. National Drug Take-Back day would be ok tho sounds expensive.	3/25/2015 6:18 PM
57	Some place nearby and convenient.	3/25/2015 5:55 PM
58	collection on trash day, put in separate container like we do for batteries, bulbs, other hazardous waste	3/25/2015 5:40 PM
59	collect with garbage like batteries and lightbulbs	3/25/2015 5:38 PM
60	Need more than one location to dispose of injectables.	3/25/2015 5:02 PM
61	Our once a year recycle day at town center.	3/25/2015 4:59 PM
62	Use the PD now, it's just not convenient - a separate trip - but do it.	3/25/2015 4:32 PM
63	Put out with my recycling in marked baggie - they take care of it. Like we do with batteries and light bulbs.	3/25/2015 4:31 PM
64	Kaiser EpiPen/needle disposal bin	3/25/2015 4:28 PM
65	i take it to the police dept but that's a special trip. if there was a take-back bin at the pharmacy, that wouldnt' be as much of a special trip	3/25/2015 4:20 PM
66	Make it easy, convenient, and free to motivate people to dispose of meds properly. Also educate folks about risks of improper disposal.	3/25/2015 4:10 PM
67	Any local, easily accessible drop off with multiple locations - like pharmacy, grocery, etc.	3/25/2015 4:06 PM

San Mateo County Unwanted Medication Disposal Consumer Survey

68	I would still take back to dr or keep them	3/25/2015 3:58 PM
69	Take-Backs by large medical institutions, like Stanford Med Center, Kaiser, PAMF, etc	3/25/2015 3:56 PM
70	See previous	3/25/2015 3:54 PM
71	Willing to drop off at any of the above. Would love to be able to dispose of them properly again!	3/25/2015 3:44 PM
72	none	3/25/2015 3:43 PM
73	My workplace hospital is more convenient for meds with sharps vs county hospital	3/25/2015 3:42 PM
74	Anything completely safe from folks who would want meds	3/25/2015 3:42 PM
75	All of these are fabulous!	3/25/2015 3:41 PM
76	If they can be re used or recycled, I would prefer options that facilitate this.	3/25/2015 3:39 PM
77	Collection once a month or once every other month by garbage truck or other curbside pickup.	3/25/2015 3:33 PM
78	I want to be extra careful disposing of my medicines for fear they'll contaminate groundwater or get in the hands of abusers. Any opportunity to dispose of them properly is preferred.	3/25/2015 3:31 PM
79	As many proper disposal sites as can be available seems to me to be the best idea. I store mine until I have enough to go to the County building. More local disposal containers would be very helpful.	3/25/2015 3:30 PM
80	website for selling unused medicine. silk road keeps getting shut down which is very inconvenient.	3/25/2015 3:26 PM
81	Give to local charity for use in free clinics	3/25/2015 3:12 PM
82	Like we have a separate trash bin for food / recyclable items, we could have one at home for medicine disposal, that can be collected once a month, instead of weekly, or even once a quarter.	3/25/2015 3:11 PM
83	Collection bin at LOCAL police department.	3/25/2015 3:00 PM
84	Any of these would work.	3/25/2015 2:59 PM
85	Return to issuing physician or veterinarian for disposal.	3/25/2015 2:57 PM
86	Would happily use any of these services! Currently I just keep the unused medicines because I know it's not safe to dispose of them in my household but don't know what to do with them.	3/25/2015 2:53 PM
87	Pharmacies are the ideal place for this to happen!	3/25/2015 2:52 PM
88	Places that are easy and free for drop offs are great. Grocery stores and the like would be fantastic. Or perhaps post offices?	3/25/2015 2:50 PM
89	Drop off at Little House senior center in Menlo Park.	3/25/2015 2:45 PM
90	anything that is "convenient" I no longer just dump my meds. I know it is bad for the environment.	3/25/2015 2:45 PM
91	The "national drug take-back day" only works if one is available that day..., and I would not pay $4 for a mailer to send back pills. Sorry!	3/25/2015 2:44 PM
92	Should be easy/simple and FREE	3/25/2015 2:42 PM
93	Take-back bins at several convenient locations where I could just drop them quickly: Rite Aid, CVS, Ace, Safeway...I don't take medications but my sister and members of my family do and I have old pet meds because I foster dogs that aren't easy to dispose of	3/25/2015 2:40 PM
94	Periodic "Take Back Day" from the waste collection services	3/25/2015 2:39 PM
95	Place meds in plastic bag and place on recycling bin which is picked up by local waste disposal every week	3/25/2015 2:38 PM
96	None. I feel that my method is safe from garbage thieves (no one goes thru my stinky garbage with bags of cat and dog poop). And the pills will degrade in the garbage dump.	3/25/2015 2:38 PM
97	Once after a friend passed away i had a very very large garbage bag she died of cancer and had a lot of dangerous drugs I took them to the police station after the home care nurse (hospice)said they couldn't get rid of them the police station said they couldn't either after running around with this bag of drugs I took them to the sheriff dept after trying to find parking here in Redwood city this was quite an experience so yes we do need an easier way of getting rid of these medications	3/25/2015 2:37 PM

98	Hospital take back bin.	3/25/2015 2:37 PM
99	flush toilet	3/25/2015 2:37 PM
100	I would use any of the above. I really don't want them in landfills. I think the pharmaceutical companies should pay for educational campaigns and disposal!	3/25/2015 2:36 PM
101	The trash man pickup the same day as my trash service.	3/25/2015 2:35 PM
102	None. I think there's a lack of knowledge as to why it's not proper to throw medicine in the trash. You should start with educating the public before you invest in a bin that no one (maybe older people) is going to use.	3/25/2015 2:31 PM
103	It is impossible to park at the SM Police Station	3/25/2015 2:29 PM
104	The easier it is, the more it will be used. E.g. pharmacies are everywhere so easy to find. Having to buy an envelope would only be done by the super-responsible.	3/25/2015 2:27 PM
105	The San Carlos police dept. is only open during business hours--no good if you work outside of town. HHW facility requires an appt.--not convenient. Drug take back day is only 2x year. I would like a combination of take back for reuse and convenient/daily takeback opportunity for disposal. I have been using the bin at the Shoreline Enviro Center but not too many people know about it.	3/25/2015 2:24 PM
106	special bag for putting them into recycle bin (for curbside pickup)	3/25/2015 2:21 PM
107	Free disposal envelopes funded by drug manufacturers.	3/25/2015 2:20 PM
108	So far the survey has not addressed sharps which we take back to the county hazardous waste. Surprised to see Nordstrom Hillsdale had sharps disposal in the women's restroom	3/25/2015 2:19 PM
109	Absolute favourite would be the take-back bin. It would have the advantage of reminding me every time I went to the pharmacy that that's an option.	3/25/2015 2:07 PM
110	I need to understand probs associated w just throwing it away to go to extra trouble	3/25/2015 2:06 PM
111	A way to have them picked up by Recology as a special pickup (similar to their hazardous waste pick up).	3/25/2015 1:55 PM
112	There should be similar facilities for sharps disposal. Unwanted medicine packaged in syringes cannot be collected at the collection bins at the existing facilities.	3/25/2015 1:51 PM
113	Free postage-paid mail-back envelope.	3/25/2015 1:47 PM
114	Drop off site at local hospital	3/25/2015 1:28 PM
115	Already have a disposal location at the San Bruno Police station which is a good place since we only need occasionally.	3/25/2015 1:27 PM
116	no idea	3/25/2015 1:27 PM
117	I honestly just want to be able to dispose of them for free. It seems so weird to have to purchase a bag.	3/25/2015 1:24 PM
118	As long as I know it is being properly disposed of in an environmentally safe way.	3/25/2015 1:16 PM
119	Have my personal physician dispose of them for me when I make my regular office visits.	3/25/2015 12:57 PM
120	I find the parking situation at the San Bruno PD to be confusing.	3/25/2015 12:46 PM
121	None	3/25/2015 12:44 PM
122	Whatever it is, it has to be convenient and part of my routine. I know that there have been collection sites at local police stations, but they aren't near me.	3/25/2015 12:41 PM
123	None of these sound ideal	3/25/2015 12:35 PM
124	collection bin at local fire department	3/25/2015 12:30 PM
125	Bring to hospital	3/25/2015 12:25 PM
126	Collection bins at hospitals; senior centers; controlled Take Back Days at eco-friendly community events. What system do nursing homes use?	3/25/2015 12:24 PM
127	I like the idea of the pharmacy because I am going there anyway	3/25/2015 12:23 PM
128	Donate to business that matches unused medicine w those who need it, but can't afford it	3/25/2015 12:17 PM

129	These are not MY medicines, they are my elderly parents - and there are LOTS of them, as they are often prescribed and sold things that later turn out not to be safe with their condition.	3/25/2015 12:14 PM
130	Any of the above are good options. Probably can't hurt to have multiple options although I don't think the Police/Sheriffs need to focus on this issue if pharmacies and county health will take it on.	3/25/2015 12:12 PM
131	Any convenient location that has free collection	3/25/2015 12:12 PM
132	Some way to include with weekly trash/recycling pick-up similar to the battery disposal service through our trash pick up.	3/25/2015 12:11 PM
133	Local pharmacy is the most convenient place.	3/25/2015 12:08 PM
134	Take in garage	3/25/2015 12:08 PM
135	Take-back bins should be at ALL pharmacies whether in hospitals, drugstores, grocery stores or privately run.	3/25/2015 12:07 PM
136	perhaps have other sites as a public service, I.E. at grocery stores	3/25/2015 12:05 PM
137	Pharmacies should take them for god's sake! Everyone is just flushing them and they end up in the water supply or the ocean. Paying to dispose of them? No way!	3/25/2015 12:04 PM
138	I like the option of the mail back envelope but that should be at no cost to the disposer. In order to have a successful program, it needs to be convenient to consumers. Consumers do not understand the costs of not properly disposing of medicine enough to be willing to pay to dispose of it properly.	3/25/2015 11:58 AM
139	Free disposal at local medical and psyc clinics	3/25/2015 11:50 AM
140	I need needle disposal also.	3/25/2015 11:46 AM
141	If national day allowed you to drive by.	3/25/2015 11:42 AM
142	Most of the drugs we discard are Rx, or OTC; NOT controlled swubstances. Evrnas monthly or quarterly collection by local municipalities would be fine. .	3/25/2015 11:34 AM
143	A free Pharmacy drop off container seems like the most convenient and best option but it could be helpful to include a few other options as well.	3/25/2015 11:28 AM
144	isn't there some way we can get unused drugs to people who need them but can't pay for them?	3/25/2015 11:27 AM
145	IF I had the need, disposal at a local pharmacy would seem to be most convenient; however, marketing associated with a "National Take-Back Day" might provide a good reminder to clean out the medicine chest.	3/25/2015 11:23 AM
146	Bin at library.	3/25/2015 11:23 AM
147	Just set up a bin. Don't over complicate this.	3/25/2015 11:21 AM
148	FREE SERVICES WOULD PROMOTE A SAFER PROCESS TO DISPOSE AND INCENTIVE FOR PEOPLE TO PARTICPATE	3/25/2015 11:18 AM
149	Almost doesn't matter so long as there's a rational and secure way to dispose of the meds after they've been collected.	3/25/2015 11:17 AM
150	Getting rid of meds, like getting rid of garbage, should be free, convenient, easy. Otherwise, you are encouraging people to do the wrong thing, e.g., flush drugs down the toilet, throw in the garbage, etc.	3/25/2015 11:17 AM
151	Special container for local trash pickup at home	3/25/2015 11:16 AM
152	Collection bin at doctor's office.	3/25/2015 11:15 AM
153	not sure	3/25/2015 11:11 AM
154	Just like batteries are handled by the waste company allow for bags of unused medicine. Unfortunately, this may pose a health issue or cost issue which then makes the pharmacy the best choice.	3/25/2015 11:08 AM
155	Any free take-back bin conveniently located and tamper-proof.	3/25/2015 11:08 AM
156	There are not enough places to drop off unused medicines. How about city halls as a drop off site?	3/25/2015 11:07 AM
157	I always take my prescriptions in full, as prescribed. No need for disposal options.	3/25/2015 11:05 AM

158	Picked up with the trash on my regular trash pick-up day -- in a special RED container!!! Do NOT make people drive to get rid of this dangerous stuff, or they will just throw it in the trash. MAKE IT EASY FOR PEOPLE TO DO THE RIGHT THING !! Tell everyone to just put the stuff in a special container and put that container out with the regular carts --- on our regular pick-up day,. The container should be RED plastic with a hinged lid. Yes, this would cost money initially to buy and distribute these red containers, but you should be able to get most people to use those containers, just as most everyone now uses the green, blue, and black carts for stuff and those always get picked up every week.	3/25/2015 11:04 AM
159	you guys just dont get it [wise up 7 put bins @pharmas] the sick need meds theres NOT a single one of them EVER going to the PD!	3/25/2015 11:03 AM
160	Have all medical personnell prescribing medications require patients to return expired/unused medications to their office for appropriate destruction.	3/25/2015 11:01 AM
161	Secure bins at major grocery chains.	3/25/2015 10:59 AM
162	Give to an organization that can redistribute it to someone in need.	3/25/2015 10:58 AM
163	Doctors' offices, we take sharps there already, why not meds.	3/25/2015 10:57 AM
164	Just about anything would be better than what we have now, which is (as far as I can tell) nothing.	3/25/2015 10:57 AM
165	As long as I don't have to separate out the different medicines, and as long as it's free.	3/25/2015 10:55 AM
166	if there's 24/7 drop off box at any public locations, like garbage can, that would be great.	3/25/2015 10:55 AM
167	It would be great to that Take-Back bins in areas that are most commonly visited such at doctors office not just the pharmacies, stores like CVS, Walmart Target maybe even the DMV.	3/25/2015 10:54 AM
168	I never thought that someone may actually sort the garbage to find thrown away expired medicine.	3/25/2015 10:54 AM
169	As long as it was available all the time (daily) at least during business hours and relatively easy to find.	3/25/2015 10:54 AM
170	Garbage pick up for OTC medicines in special box	3/25/2015 10:53 AM
171	Similar to batteries, bag on top of recycling	3/25/2015 10:53 AM
172	any place within the community to drop off medicines with extended hours	3/25/2015 10:52 AM
173	This would be the best method and I would eventually use it.	3/25/2015 10:52 AM
174	Sharps disposal for epi-pens at pharmacy or sheriff's dept/police station	3/25/2015 10:52 AM
175	It would be nice if we could put out with trash pick-up - like batteries in a plastic bag on top of bin.	3/24/2015 12:33 PM
176	Local drop off great Hope Foster City gets one soon	3/24/2015 11:08 AM
